1	Internet connection = most important	5/18/2018 2:16 PM
2	housing for all wont happen before HC season	5/15/2018 8:30 PM
3	We left St. John in early April, so do not know current status of debris. There were still several large piles of debris on our roadside when we left, although some had been picked up earlier. We have heard that much of the debris on the ballfields and across from the dumpsters by Love City Mini Mart has been removed, but trash removal on the island is still a HUGE problem! Better system is definitely needed!	5/15/2018 2:58 PM
4	This is all important here. But does it make a difference if its collected and piled in one location or if its in various locations. A storm is going to make it fly around no matter what- But we need to figure out a way to recycle the debris- Especially the wood- If ti can be cleaned of the mold and then used as mulch that would be great for the environment	5/14/2018 9:00 PM
5	Internet is needed now! Plus in the Mandahl area, we need the other cell tower reinstalled. Without it we only get cell service sometimes.	5/14/2018 1:17 PM
6	Reliable communication and power and housing and road repairs are of utmost importance	5/14/2018 11:57 AM
7	It's all critical ... but, of course the piles of refuse in Coral Bay is the hardest to deal with daily ... it's just so unpleasant and not good for tourists.	5/14/2018 10:36 AM
8	things are much better now but a strong storm can blow existing debris everywhere	5/14/2018 9:24 AM
9	As a small business owner I think that maybe the next three months isn't when we need the focus. I think that ramping up for next busy season is when we really need to let people know we're really ready for tourists. On the other hand, I'm worried about other small businesses not making it through this slow season after a slow "busy" season.	5/14/2018 7:43 AM
10	Need to focus on 2018 season. Shore up the infrastructure, roads, communication, etc and remove any potential fly object debris.	5/14/2018 7:35 AM
11	internet and/or cell communications very important to getting back tourism. People don't want to come without it. Seems like it should be easier to complete.	5/14/2018 7:08 AM
12	I	5/13/2018 9:38 PM
13	Remove the trash and junk. People on island understand. However, tourists do not understand why there are piles of debris and trash everywhere and don't want to experience this. They notice it.	5/13/2018 8:12 PM
14	Road and gut to La	5/13/2018 5:23 PM
15	The government effort has been a disgrace Thankful for the private support	5/13/2018 4:33 PM
16	One of the most damaging effects on tourism in the Virgin Islands has been the change in VRBO's operation. The company was sold to Expedia a few years ago and changed their business practices completely. I am among many villa owners whose business immediately tanked after this. This was well before the storm. If there is any way for the VI government to put pressure on VRBO to help villa owners stay afloat I vote for that. The company has Virgin Islands tourism over a barrel.	5/13/2018 2:38 PM
17	Many cables and a fair amount of debris continues to litter the road from Coral Bay to the East End.	5/13/2018 11:04 AM

18	Highway 108 has a landslide across from Keithley Marsh that has covered the road three different times and needs some sort of retaining to keep it from continuing to happen. Army Corp removed dirt/rock twice and now the DPW just removed the dirt and rock from road and it continues to erode further. Several residents have called Commissioner Nelson Petty to try and get it repaired but the DPW just did the same as the Army Corp removed the dirt and rock from the road and no repair to stop it.	5/13/2018 10:29 AM
19	Who is responsible for neighbors debris still on my property! I have paid laboreres to hack apart roofs, haul galvalume to collection sites, dig me out from estate road collapse and their flying debris shattered all my solar panels. My damage was mainly flooding and digging out from collapsing roadside mud gravity fed downhill	5/13/2018 7:34 AM
20	Still no land line or internet,	5/13/2018 6:55 AM
21	Identify a building that can be hardened and used as a shelter for this storm season.	5/12/2018 11:36 PM
22	It's too late to help small businesses now, the ones that needed help to not close have already closed.	5/12/2018 2:44 PM
23	Removal of Debris everywhere is important before hurricane season.	5/12/2018 2:22 PM
24	Use this opportunity to remove as much trash, abandoned cars/junk, metal, etc. as possible including non hurricane related junk. the valley floor comes to mind...	5/12/2018 1:48 PM
25	Land lines were removed from east end before storm	5/12/2018 1:28 PM
26	It's hard for me to accurately gauge some of this stuff. We've only been on island once (for 5 days) since the storm. We can't really afford to be there until our house is done.	5/12/2018 1:15 PM
27	If tourism is to return to St John in time to save the industry we need to make the man-made environment safe and attractive asap. The natural environment is taking care of itself and tourist are far more forgiving of that than they are of what humans have built that is not getting cleaned up.	5/12/2018 11:45 AM
28	I feel we can be creative and not rely on tourist for so many needs. Lots to do as a community.	5/12/2018 10:42 AM
29	When I got here in March I was surprised to see how little had been done to clean up debris. However debris collection & removal has improved significantly in the last 60 days	5/12/2018 10:40 AM
30	Debris removal my highest priority	5/12/2018 9:29 AM
